

Kevin Verwijmeren - Those Glorious Heights (Vynilla Vinyl/Icarus Records)

Kevin Verwijmeren is a 23 year old science student, living in Delft, Holland.

Since 2013, he creates musical patterns and melodies, which he combines into contemplative landscapes of sound.

Inspired by the sound and emotion of Loscil, Tim Hecker and Pan American, Verwijmeren constructs a musical cocoon to imagine a vision of a different world. Through his dark but beautiful soundscapes, he tries to break daily routine and accept the dark side of life.

His new album 'Those Glorious Heights' will be released on 26/02/16 in a limited edition on Icarus Records/Vynilla Vinyl, with artwork by Jan Van Der Kleijn. The album was mastered by Stephan Mathieu (Schwebung Mastering).

About Kevin:

His first production 'Never Ending Tape' was released in 2013 on the online label Future Sequence. With this release he got noticed within the ambient scene and was asked to contribute the label's compilation cd 'An Introduction To Soft records'. Verwijmeren's first full album 'It's The Colour Of A Cloud Covered Sky' was released in 2014 by Soft Corridor Records and got a lot of positive feedback.

This album also triggered the attention of American movie director Maazin Kamal who asked Kevin to write a score for his short movie 'The Wolf And The Wayfarer'.

in 2015, Kevin played several successful live shows in Iceland while composing his new album 'Those Glorious Heights', which will be released by Vynilla Vinyl/Icarus Records in 2016.

2013	The Never Ending Tape	Futuresequence
2014	Scenery For A Hallway	Soft Recordings
2014	It's The Colour Of A Cloud Covered Sky	Soft Corridor Records
2014	It's Not Where You Go	Futuresequence
2015	The Wolf And The Wayfarer	KAIROS Pictures
2016	Those Glorious Heights	Icarus Records/Vynilla Vinyl